

NEBRASKA WRITERS GUILD, 2019 POETRY CHAPBOOK CONTRIBUTION CONTRACT TERMS:

By answering the questions below, I (the author) agree that the work submitted to the Nebraska Writers Guild (Guild) for their 2019 Poetry Chapbook is my original creation, and is currently unpublished, and that I currently own all rights to the poems. I agree that no monetary exchange for publication of my work shall be required by me from the Guild nor by the Guild from me. I grant these rights to the Nebraska Writers Guild – first English-language publication rights for the 2019 Nebraska Writers Guild Poetry Chapbook only (title to be determined) non-exclusive after six months from the publication date. The Guild agrees to get advance permission to publish the work in part or in whole in chapbook advertising or solicitation of entries in future Guild works. I understand that, for liability reasons, the Guild may edit my poem at their discretion, including changing names, locations, and other identifying information. They may also change my name/pennname appearing on the story. However, they must not publish those changes unless and until approved by me. This agreement notwithstanding, I retain all copyrights to the work submitted.
